Note:

- The headings and explanations herein are for convenience and better understanding only and may not affect the construction hereof in contravention to the intention/spirit of Platform, unless specified.
- All the Participants need to understand the distinction between determination of the written terms of Agreement and their subsequent interpretation with the consequence that, even though the writing of clauses may contain respective intention, other unwritten circumstances be also interpreted in same spirit because literal meaning/reading may not suffice to achieve this intention of good faith and fair dealing.
- Such distinction above seems sensible as it also explains the apparent effects of accepting the clauses of this Agreement so that no party runs the risk of unjustified generalization.
